ALLIES AGREE ON REPLY TO HUN PROPOSALS

Set Saturday, Unofficially as Date For Presentation

(By The Associated Press)
(By The Associated Press.)

The peace conference barometer which for some time has been vacillating between pessimism and optimism as to the probability of an early agreemnt by the council of our on the answer to the German counter-proposals to the peace treaty again registers optimism.

From Paris comes the almost definite statement that the reply of the allied and associated governments to the Germans is complete and that all that now is required to end the tense situation is to draft answer, present it to the Germans and await five days for their final reply whether they accept or reject it.

According to a statement made in a responsible quarter in Paris, agreements in principal on all disputed points have been reached the council, even on the question whether Germany is to become a member of the league of nations and as regards the holding of a piebiscite in upper Silesia.

Saturday has been set unofficially as the date for presentation of the reply to the Germans.

In Austria-Hungary the political situation is considered serious. Reports are that a communist government is to be set up in Austria Sunday and that the Austrian communists will ally theselves with the communist faction in Hungary.

In Germany Gustave Noske, minister of defense, has thrown down the gauntlet to the radical majority socialists who have been attempting to force his resignation and that of Premier Schiedemann from the executive committee of the majority party.

"We are still in office and we will stick, because it is our duty to save the German people," Noske declared. Noske's strong hand in putting down disorder was responsible for the demand for his resignation it is believed.

The supreme council has informed Admiral Kolchak, anti-Bolsheviki leader in Russia that his reply to its offer of allied suport in the campaign against the Bolsheviki is satisfactory. This is regarded as meaning de facto recognition by the allied and associated powers of the Omsk government headed by Kolchak and the furnishing of munitions and supplies for Kolchak's campaign.

The British government has denied a report that British troops are operating against Petrograd.

Serious anti-Japanese agitation in China which may develop into a general anti-foreign movement is reported from Tokio.

Louis that union telegraphers were ordered to discontinue handling commercial business after six a. m. Saturday.

The order was issued by E. J. Manion, president of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers and affects 80,000 operators, it was stated.

Whether the railroad operators will be called out on sympathetic strike will depend upon developments of the next few days, it was stated.

The strike leaders gained further confidence thru adoption by the American Federation of Labor of a resolution pledging moral support to the strike called for June 16 by the International rBotherhood of Electrical Workers.

LABOR VOTES TO SUPPORT PHONE STRIKE

Committee to Go to Washington in Hope of Averting Walkout

(By The Associated Press)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 12.—A strike designed to cripple the telephone systems of the country, will begin Monday with the full moral support of the American Federation of Labor, unless satisfactory working agreement is reached before that time between Postmaster General Burleson and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, which numbers among its members the bulk of the union telephone operators in the United States. By unanimous vote the reconstruction convention of the federation adopted a resolution today giving its support to the strike and providing that Samuel Gompers, president, should appoint a committe to co-operate with a committee of electrical workers, the joint committee to take up grievances with the postoffice authorities at Washington in the hope of averting the walkout.

Term Burleson "Tyrannical."

During the debate Postmaster General Burelson was termed a "tyrannical" official by delegates who thought any attempt to obtain "justice" from the postal executive would be utterly futile. In this connection reference was made to a resolution which will come before the conventio later, in which if it is passed President Wilson will be requested to remove Mr. Burleson.

Sponsors of the strike support resolution accused Mr. Burleson, during the debate of turning back control of the wire systems of the country as a means of "getting out from under."

As adopted, after certain changes by the committee, the resolution began with the declaration that by a referendum vote of the electrical workers and telephone workers employed by the telephone companies of the United States a strike had been decided upon and a call had been issued for June 16.

Ever since August, 1918, it continue, the telephone employes have been trying to "secure a working understanding with the postmaster general who promised to establish a working arrangement but failed to do so and has now turned back the operation to private control."

Refused to Renew Agreements.

Prior to the taking over of the wires by the government it was recited the electrical workers had agreements with the company "but the postmaster general persistenly refused to renew agreements upon their termination or to make any provision to care for electrical employes," and it "therefore, became an urgent necessity to safeguard the rights of the membership involved."

The resolution also stated that the officers of the brotherhood have at all times during the prosecution of the war refused to call a strike attempting at all times to assist the government.

The committee which will try to reach an agreement with the postmaster general plans to be in Washington tomorrow.

The convention also adopted today a resolution urging congress to make an appropriation and pass such other legislation as may be necessary to enable the United States employment service to continue functioning until it can be established on a permanent basis.

The convention listened to several addresse by British and Japanese delegates who emphasized that closer co-operation between the laboring men of various nationalities would furnish a means of preserving the future peace of the world.

Ford Declines Comment.

Springfield, Ill., June 12.—Word to the effect that the American Federation of Labor in convention at Atlantic City today had adopted a resolution giving its moral support to the proposed strike of electrical workers which has been set for June 16, was received late today by Charles Ford, secretary of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. ## Leave Fight Over Barr Bill Unsettled

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. June 12—A fight over the issue as to whether "mercantile establishments" should be excluded from the operations of the Barr bill providing a nine hour day for women workers, was left unsettled late today when the house postponed action until tomorrow morning.

An amendment by the house industrial affairs committee putting mercantile concerns back into the measure, after it was cut out by the senate before passage by the upper branch, was the point of controversy and a motion to table it was pending when postponement came.

Kill Substitute

Just before this Representative W. H. H. Miller of Champaign had attempted to get thru a substitute fixing an eight hour day and a forty-eight hour week, but this was killed. The industrial affairs committee amendment would permit women workers in stores to be employed nine hours a day or fifty-four hours a week.

Representative Lee O'Neill Browne of Ottawa, attacked both amendments and admitted that he wanted mercantile establishments to be free from the proposed act.

Vigorous debate in both houses accompanied action today on the bill fostered by the agricultura committee to amend the criminal code so as to permit farmers, gardeners, dairymen and others to organize for the purpose of making collective sales and to exempt such organizations from prosecution under the conspiracy act "heretofore or hereafter".

An attack on the bill by Representative Igoe, resulted in amendment and the striking of the phrase "heretofore or hereafter". Igoe declared this provision was for the purpose of white-washing members of the "milk trust" now involved in court proceedings in Cook county and of giving these persons an "immunity bath".

The senate passed the bill by a vote of 27 to 3 over the protest of Senator Hull and others.

Advance Browne Bill

The house suspended the rules advanced the Browne bill, asking by a vote of 69 to 26 today and an investigation of the sanitary district of Chicago to third reading.

Senator Curtis' bill increasing the teachers' pension fund tax from one tenth to one fifth of a mill was passed by the house and now goes to the governor for his signature.

Representative LaPorte's bill authorizing the state department of trade and commerce to issue licenses to and to control persons and companies operating passenger boats of over 100 passenger capacity within the jurisdiction of Illinois was passed 81 to 38, after an extended debate. Mr. LaPorte said the intention was to give the state jurisdiction concurrent with the federal government. He cited the Columbia and Eastland disasters as reason for need of closer inspection of passenger boats. The bill of Representative Dietrich, permitting school boards to hire superintendents for a term not to exceed three years was passed and goes to the senate.

Governor Lowden today vetoed the senate measure proposing that the state pay $1,200, on the salaries of county agriculture advisors. He signed the bill proposing an immigration commission to study standards of living and conditions of employment among citizens of foreign extraction or unnaturalized persons residing in congested centers.

The senate today passed both the professional and amateur boxing bills, sponsored by Senators Gorman and Barr, respectively. The measures now go to the house.

At a "love feast" dinner indulged in by members of the house tonight gifts were given Speaker Shanahan the majority and minority leaders and chairmen of main committees which mounted into thousands of dollars in value. ## Charge Packers Keep Prices Up Illegally

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Charges that Chicago packers are unlawfully maintaining present high prices of meat by keeping huge quantities in cold storage were made in the house today by Representative Fess, Republican of Ohio who declared that congress should pass a persuasive resolution which would make the packers understand that the people no longer would tolerate such "high handed practices."

The Ohio representative presented figures which purported to show that the packers now have on hand nearly one and one-half billion pounds of meat. This amount included, he said, 167,000,000 pounds of frozen beef, 27,000,000 pounds of cured beef, 7,000,000 pounds of frozen lamb and mutton, 138,000,000 pounds frozen pork, 413,000,000 pounds of dry salt pork, 427,000,000 pounds of pickled pork, 197,000,000 pounds of lard and 113,000,000 pounds of miscellaneous goods.

"This account is greatly in excess of the amount held in storage a year ago," Mr. Fess declared, "and clearly indicates that the packers are hesitating to place it on the market for fear it will drive down the price and thus cause them loss. They are holding also huge quantities of fowls in storage, 46,000,000 pounds as compared with 14,000,000 pounds a year ago."

Representative Dowell, Republican of Iowa, asserted the war department had joined with the packers to prevent meats from returning to their normal price level by retaining its surplus war stocks.

The packers were defended by Representative Henry T. Rainey, Democrat of Illinois, who declared no other industry had done so much to help win the war.

"It is easy enough to condemn the packers," Mr. Rainey declared, "but it is impossible to accuse them rightfully of any wrong doing. If they have meat in storage they have good reasons for holding it there, and those reasons are not to protect them from loss."

GIVE UP HOPE OF SALVAGING YANKEE

NEW YORK, June 12.—Tugs sent to the assistance of the steamships Yankee and Graf Waldersee, run down by other craft in a heavy fog off Fire Island late last night arrived here this afternoon bringing some of the crew of the Yankee and ten army officers taken off the Graf Waldersee, a naval transport.

No hope is entertained by naval officers of salvaging the Yankee, operated by the United States shipping board which sang in deep water soon after she had been rammed by the Italian Steamer Argentina.

There is hope of saging the Graf Waldersee, however. The transport, formerly a flagship of the Hamburg-American line, is now resting in forty feet of water two miles off Long Beach, where she was towed by the U. S. S. Patricia after the tSeamer Redondo had torn a great holes in her side.

Only a few of the transport's crew of 400 had been removed tonight as the craft was considered in no danger so long as a storm did not arise. Naval officers dedied a report that several men had been injured in the collision.

TO ASK SUBMISSION OF DIFFERENCES

BRUSSELS, Wednesday, June 11.—The peace conference in Paris will invite Belgium and Holland to submit their differences as to waterways to a commission composed of representatives of the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan but no suggestion for a transfer of teritorial sovereigtyy nor the creation of new international obligations will be considered.

This was outlied in the Belgian chamber of deupties this afternoon by Paul Hymans, foreign minister who came here for that purpose from Paris. M. Hymans adds that, while Belgium had agreed to go before such a commission it was well understood that the outlined proceedure would not put "an examination of measures necessary to obviate danger which the peace conference admitted on March 8 to menace Belgium by reason of the terms of the treaty of 1839." He also intimated that the negotiations would be protracted.

PLACE KNOX RESOLUTION ON CALENDAR

Senate Will Consider Measure Early Next Week

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The resolution of Senator Knox of Pennsylvania a former Republican secretary of state, to have the senate declare definitely it cannot accept the league of nations interwoven with the peace treaty, was put on the calendar of the senate today for consideration early next week.

In reporting the measure the foreign relations committee amended it however, to strike out the section which would have declared it a policy of the American government to cooperate in combatting any future menace to the peace of Europe. The provision was eliminated by friends of the resolution after it became apparent that otherwise favorable committee action on the measure might be endangered.

On the motion to amend, as well as on the final vote for a favorable report, all the Democratic members voted in the negative and in each case they were joined by Senator McCumber, Republican of North Dakota, a league supporter. On final approval the vote stood 8 to 7.

Two unsuccessful motions to postpone action by the committee until next week were made by Senator Pittman, Democrat of Nevada and when Senator Knox later asked unanimous consent to present the favorable report to the senate the request at first was blocked by Senator Robinson, Democrat of Arkansas. Mr. Robinson withdrew his objection, however, upon an agreement that the senate should adjourn until Monday so there would be no debate on the resolution this week.

When the measure comes up the first of the week, its supporters will try to press it to an early vote so that if adopted it will reach the Versailles conference before the signing of the treaty. The league supporters are expected to make a bitter fight against any such action. While they disclaim any intention to conduct a filibuster, they say they will no permit a vote until the resolution has been discussed at length.

Army Land-Purchases Up In The House

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Final action on the 1920 army appropriation bill was delayed in the house today as the result of a brisk parliamentary skirmish over a proviso prohibiting the war department from using any part of the appropriation or any unexpended balances now in its possession for the purchase of additional lands for army purposes.

A point of order on the proviso was made by Representative Campbell of Kansas, presiding, after prolonged debate.

An attempt will be made tomorrow to obtain a special rule from the rules committee making the proviso in order.

Reductions totalling $90,500,000 in the bill were made during the day reducing the total amount carried from $810,000,000 to $718,650,000 or $535,000 000 less than the original estimates of the war department.

The debate on the proviso centered largely on the question of whether the war department was justified in making large expenditures for land now that hostilities have ceased and demobilization is more than half completed. Republicans declared that the department's authority to make land purchases ceased when the armistice was signed and the millions of dollars had been spent without justification since.

Representative Madden, Republican of Illinois declared that more than 500,000 acres of land had been purchased near Camp Benning, Ga., at a cost of about $7,000,000 for a small arms practice field, even tho a similiar field existed at Fort Sill Okla. He characterized this as a "criminal misuse of the government's money which should be considered the same as embezzlement."

Representative McKenzie, Republican of Illinois asserted that this was only one of numerous "flagrant abuses."

"Seemingly," Mr. McKenzie added, "the department does not realize that the war is over. Land for which the army has now absolutely no use is being purchased recklessly. Millions of dollars are being thrown to the winds. If the administration is unable ti realize that the time for such a course has passed, it is the duty of congress to step in and put a stop to it."

Democrats replied to the charges by declaring they were as much without foundation as other charges which the majority party had been making.

"Evidently the Republicans have not taken into consideration," declared Representative Lever, of South Carolina, "that the war department is saving money for the government by going ahead and purchasing tracts of land for which it already has spent large sums for options or improvements."

GIVE ENLISTED MAN'S SIDE OF CONTROVERSY

CHICAGO, June 12.—The enlisted man's side of the court martial controversy was presented today to the American Bar association committe by several witnesses. The non-coms and privates did not respond to the committee's investigation in as great numbers as had been expected and the committee found itself without witnesses an hour before usual adjournment time. It was also indicated that a few more experts on military jurisprudence may be heard tomorrow altho the hearings were supposed to close today.

After Mortimer M. Newfield a private in the balloon corps at Fort Omaha, had told the lawyers what he considered was wrong with present court martial practices and procedure, Lawrence Packwood a mess sergeant in the regular army and a veteran as well of the British navy and British merchant marine, argued against several proposals of the Ansell bill. No civilian should have anything to do with administering military justice, he thought because such a change would unnecessarily encroach upon military discipline. Neither did he favor having enlisted men serve as members of courts.

LOWDEN DENIES INFLUENCING STATE BOARD

Governor Testifies at Hearing of Joint Committee

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 12.—Governor Lowden today emphatically denied that he had either directly or indirectly influenced the state board of equalization in disposing of the Pullman tax assessment question at a hearing of the special joint legislative committee named to investigate charges that the board members had been approached and warned that if the taxes of the Pullman company were increased the board would be abolished. The governor with Charles Woodward of Ottawa, Illinois, legal adviser to the governor, and William H. Malone, a member of the board of equalization from Park Ridge were the principal witnesses who testified today. At the conclusion of the hearing, Chairman Barr of the joint committee announced that the introduction of evidence had been completed, and that the committee would meet on Monday at which time a report would be drafted of the investigation.

Owns No Stock in Company.

Governor Lowden stated that he had never received any information relative to the increase in the Pullman assessments until he read it in the papers. He testified that he had never been represented at any of the meetings of the board either directly or indirectly and that he did not own any stock in the Pullman company at the present time.

The governor on the stand asserted that he had been a director at one time in the Pullman company, but that upon being elected to congress he resigned. Later the governor stated he had served as director about 1911, and resigned a second time when he was elected governor.

Governor Lowden stated that he had favored abolition of the board of equalization in December, 1918, and that it had been a part of the administration program to replace the board of equalization with a tax commission. He stated that allegations to the effect that he had influenced the board of equalization in connection with handling the Pullman assessments were given publicity in an effort to discredit the administration in carrying out its program of replacing the board with the tax commission.

The governor denied that he had sent any persons out on any "junket excursions" to investigate taxation laws.

Discussed Abolition Plans.

Charles Woodward, who drafted the administration bills recently passed by the legislature, which provides for a tax commission to replace the board of equalization, testified that he discussed with the governor at various times during the last three years plans whereby the board of equalization would be abolished. Mr. Woodward said that in conferences with the governer and former Attorney General Stead, it was brought out that concentration of certain state agencies was necessary in order to bring about greater efficiency and that all three of the men agreed that a centralized body should supplant the board of equalization. The witness said the governor asked him to prepare bills calling for the abolition of the board of equalization in July, 1918, and that they were turned over to the governor in September of the same year.

William H. Malone, a member of the board of equalization testified that the affidavits which formed the basis of the investigation were prepared for the Chicago Journal to protect that newspaper in the event that libel sults were filed. He asserted that copies of the Journal published during the month of February, 1919, which contained articles alleging that undue influence had been brought to bear upon the board of equalization relative to the handling of the Pullman assessments, had been mailed out to legislators by members of the board in order that members of the legislature might understand the position of the board.

Malone denied that he had charged the governor with backing a movement to change the assessments of the Pullman company or that he had drawn the name of the governor into the case.

Talking about the suffrage amendment and the interchange of telegrams between Mrs. Taft and Mrs. Trout, it is pleasing to remember that, after all, there is nothing in a name.

It is necessary for the Illinois legislature to act again on the suffrage amendment because of a typographical error in the draft of the bill presented This may lose the state the honor of "first place" in the list ratifying the amendment. It will not have the slightest effect so far as the general result is concerned.

Railroad magazines, now that the return of railroads to the owners is a matter of a few months, are pointing out some of the reasons for decrease in revenue and increase in operation costs. The discussion is shedding light on the big deficit rolled up under government control. A consideration of the statistics presented leads to the conclusion that the public must face still further increase in rates if employes continue to receive present salaries and the road owners are given proper return on their investment.

THE HIGHER TAX RATE.

The measure in the Illinois legislature changing the tax rate in cities from $1.20 to $2 has weathered many storms and been passed. Advocates of the higher tax rate during recent weeks had practically given up hope. More recently the showing made before the legislature of the great necessary increase in the cost of municipal operation has had its effect and the $2 rate has been authorized. If there were any immediate prospect of cities getting to the pre-war basis in operation costs there would be no justication for the tax measure, but it looks like the increases have come to stay.

A FRIEND TO SOLDIERS.

That was an appropriate reference that President Rammelkamp made in his commencement day address to Dr. F. S. Hayden, dean of the college. Since the war began Dr. Hayden has endeared himself especially to the men of Illinois in the army service. The dean made it a matter of special duty and pleasure to keep in touch with every one of these men in a personal way. He knew just when each man entered the service and kept in touch with the soldiers afterward thru correspondence.

The files of lettters Dr. Hayden wrote in these war days and the letters he received will have a deep historic value in the days to come. Dean Hayden was indeed a friend to the student soldiers.

GIVING THE BOY A CHANCE.

During the week the Morgan county sheriff in a court order placed a lad in the home at St. Charles. Under present circumstances here this was the logical course to follow. But was it best for the boy in question? Those who watched him closely in recent weeks came to know that this is a lad with normal instincts, who doesn't want to spend all of his time at work and does want to play. His companionships were not just right, but there is nothing inherently the matter with the boy.

All he needs is a chance. Will he get it at the St. Charles Home, where there are many boys of a hardened type? There is need for such an institution but it is not the place for boys like this one just sent from Morgan county. The time should come when a detention home here in Morgan county provides the environment that boys of this class need. Such a home could do work in character building well worth while and could change the life currents of many a boy and girl.

A MODERN HERO

Sergt Alvin C. York seems to be one of those Americans whose head has not been turned by hero worshipers. This plain American from the Tennessee mountains has been called the greatest fighter of the war. He killed more than twenty-five Germans and was responsible for the capture of an additional hundred. His uniform when he came from overseas was covered with decorations. He turned down an offer of $30,000 for a few weeks in vaudeville and instead proceeded to his humble home in the Tennessee mountains.

"There is no place like home," the sergeant says, "and I am well satisfied to stay here. Whatever I did in the war was but a matter of plain duty. I simply did my part and God gave us the victory. There are no reason why I should now capitalize my 'adventures' or be accorded special prominence."

Surely that is a rare spirit and the modest sergeant has by his very words made a greater name for himself than he did thru his warlike achievements.

THE HONORS ARE DUE.

Preparations go on apace for the Home-Coming celebration to be accorded Morgan county soldiers July 4. The finance committee will meet tonight to definitely out line its plan. The allotment for each precinct will be comparatively small but the purpose is to give everybody in Morgan county the chance to participate in this "welcome" fund. The slipping by of a few months has not made the people forgetful that they have real cause for thanksgiving, nor that the honors of the home-coming event are due to the soldiers. These boys in khaki haven't talked boastfully of their accomplishments. In fact, mose of them speak in a very reluctant way of their army service. Nevertheless, they have the knowledge that the county is under obligation to them and they know also that in other counties in every state these home-coming programs have been carried out.

Morgan county soldiers will appreciate the honors shown them.

ILLINOIS TOWNS PLAN LOCAL IMPROVEMENTS

As a result of the spread of the community council movement in Illinois, many towns are launching important local undertakings.

The creation of a community council in a town brings together in one body representatives of every group in the community—the Chamber of Commerce, the Woman's Club, the Parent-Teachers' Association, the Church societies, the Board of Education, the foreign settlement, the labor organizatitons, fraternal societies, etc. Each has some special angle on the needs of the town and out of these democratic conferences practical plans for the solution of communitty problems are soon born.

One Illinois town found, when it stopped to consider in its first council meeting, that it had spent $125,000 to get a pure wateer supply into the town, but had no way of disposing of its sewage. The job confronting its newly organized community council is the instalment of a proper seyage system.

Another town, through its community council, re-discovered a small island within its borders and decided to develop it into a general park and recreation space.

Other undertakings launched by the new community councils are: the improvement of county roads, the cleaning up of an unsanitary district of the town, the establishment of a community swimming pool, the building of a Community House, etc.

THE POEM IN THE SONG OF THE REFUGEE SHIRT.

Refugee garments made by American women for the destitute of war-ridden lands all conformed to standards built on the clothing customs of the people for whom the articles were intended. To American Eyes the patterns were often grotesque, even wasteful, but they were followed.

"Anything more clumsy and out-of-date according to American standards could hardly be imagined," writes Willa Sibert Cather, in the July number of the New Red Cross Magazine, discussing the prompt willingness of the workers to accept instructions. "Yet in the Red Cross rooms under the Court House and in the basement of the Public Library, great rich country, women sat day after day and made underdrawers with from ten to fifteen buttons, and worked the button-holes.

"Why did they do it? Why didn't they send the old men X. Y. Z. underclothes, such as their own husbands wore? Or explain to the Belgians that they didn't need buttonholes and that Belgium would get on better if she adopted modern methods?

"I believe the answer is that our women simply admired Belgium too much; they had no suggestions to offer to such a people. Their one wish was that those old men and women should have the kind of clothes they had always lived in, with no feeling of strangeness. A great deal of verse has been written to Belgium, but when I saw our smart, capable Western women patiently making drawers with fifteen buttonholes and chuckling with a kind of pride in their work, I thought that was poetry. I knew how many old feelings must have been rooted out and new feelings born, to make them want to do it, love to do it, in that tedious way that was against the tempo of their whole lives."

Flies.

They say that everything on earth was made for purpose wise; there's nothing that's devoid of worth—but what's the good of flies? They keep their merit so concealed we can't discern the same, the while our swatting stick we wield, and cuss the endless game. Ah, happy thought—perhaps the flies were dumped upon the land that we might have some exercise, a swatter in each hand. That may explain it, in which case, let's make the combat hot; enjoy the pleasures of the chase, and swat, and swat, and swat! Now is the time to swat them hard, before they get too thick; pursue them through the house and yard, and soak them with a brick. The fly that now escapes its doom will rear a countless brood; so let no fly sidestep the tomb—on with the deadly feud! Rise, thee, O sluggard, from your chair, from lounge and downy cot! Go forth, all brave and debonair, gird up your loins and swat! Let no foul fly escape your search! If one's left on the floor, that fly will lead a bride to church and raise ten million more. So take your hauberk and your helm, and like a knight arise; put on your greaves and overwhelm about ten thousand flies.

HY ALKIRE IS LIVE WIRE IN ARMY WORK

Former Minister of Brooklyn Church is Engaged in Army Work—San Antonio Paper has Story of His Work.

Thru the courtesy of Harry Platt who was called here by the death of his mother the Journal is able to print the following from a San Antonio paper relative to Rev. Hy. S. Alkire who a number of years ago was pastor of Brooklyn church. The story follows:

When most folks—especially those who haven't served a hash bar period in Uncle Sam's army—think of a preacher they vision up a tall, elongated gentleman with window-pane glasses, a solemn look and side whiskers, black, shiny serge and a stock of scriptural quotations.

And if you told them that there was a preacher who was as quick on the draw as he was on St. John, and could throw a yearly steer as far as a Sunday sermon and could referee a boxfight like a Bowery barkeep—they'd laugh at you.

Well, folks, stand up and be introduced to the Rev. H. S. Alkire, preacher, Y. M.C. A. worker, who is in town today. Grip him by the hand—and you'll wince; lamp his hearty frontier grin and you'll smile; listen to his talk and you're convinced.

If somebody ever tells you they know a preacher who can whip the whole of Mexico you won't doubt it—

For the Rev. Alkire is living, breathing proof that all brethren of the cloth aren't limited to pious ejaculations and the like.

The Rev. Alkire, just appointed to care for the regular troops in 300 miles of border country, can and does do these things.

He traverses the desert between nowhere and the Rio Grande via flivver, cranking merrily each time his machine gives up the ghost near the brow of a prairie dog burrow and throwing cooling water on the springs each time he reaches a gully.

He organizes Bible classes among the sand-pitted cavalrymen and local Y. M. C. A. units to teach the rough-riding lads the ways of the elect and the passwords through the pearly gates—and he shows 'em how to use Bibilical phrases without cussing.

He operates the frontier movies—the heart-rending tragedies of married life in New York unroll from the parson's flickering projector while the mosquitoes buzz in the mesquite and the lonely sentry sleeps with one eye open for the corporal of the guard.

He gives amusing lectures—tells jokes, sings songs, lapses now and oftener into slang and "gets by" big with the boys.

He acts as a traveling postoffice, furnishes buddy free writing fluid, stationery, stamps and oftentimes when the thermometer is throwing six kinds of different fits he's laboring across the sands with a sack of mail for "the North" across his parsonial shoulders.

He preaches on regular and special occasions, flowing with wit and humor at times, eloquent, solemn, funereal, as the case may call for, and as the occasion may demand.

He—

But his accomplishments could be enumerated through the rest of this column. Suffice it to say that the Rev. Alkire is some versatile fellow—he has to be to care properly for his five scattered posts—Terlingua, Glen Springs, San Helene, La Jitus and Big Bend.

And next time you old-fashioned folks think of a preacher—a real honest-to-goodness Y. M. C. A preacher—don't include the polished serge, sanctimonious look, side whiskers and "specs"—but think of a man who has the winning Western ways of a William Hart and a Doug Fairbanks and you'll know the modern minister, as the army boys know him.

And most especially, you'll know the Rev. Alkire.

John D. Phillips, cashier of the State Bank of Green Valley was in the city Thursday on the way to Pike county.

DEATHS

Craig.

S. M. Henderson reports the death in Indiana of a lady, the daughter of Peter Craig, formerly of the vicinity of Joy Prairie.

Cully.

At 7:20 Thursday evening Mrs. Minnie L. Cully died at the family residence on West College street.

Mrs. Cully was the daughter of James and Nancy Leadman Foutch and was born on the parental farm near Havana Jan. 6, 1877 and there grew to a lovely and beautiful womanhood. She was proficient in music, was well educated in the public schools and attended the Jacksonville Business College also. She taught music to a considerable extent when at her home.

June 20, 1914 she was married to Henry L. Cully at the home of J. J. Cully of this city and most of their married life has been spent in the lovely home in which she passed away after a painful illness of several months.

She was a consistent member of Grace M. E. church and a lady of a lovely character endearing herself to all whom she knew. Her home was a beautiful place and she ever kept it neat and attractive and was a good neighbor and kind friend, a devoted wife and loyal to her Heavenly Master.

She is survived by her husband three brothers, Samuel Foutch of Peoria, Hugh and James of Havana; two sisters, Caroline, Mrs. C. H. Thomas of Lewiston, Ill., and Addie, Mrs. Alonzo Bainter of Havana.

The time for the funeral has not been decided on. Mr. Madden is away but will doubtless return for it.

HELD RECEPTION FOR GRADUATES

Pleasant Affair Last Night at Mt. Emory Baptist Church Was in Honor of Two Young Women Graduates of High School Class of 1919—Program of Merit Presented.

Last evening in Mt. Emory Baptist church there was a reception given in honor of Misses Katherine Hayden and Frances McDaniel of the graduating high school class of 1919. At first the affair was social and informal and was followed by a program of genuine merit.

To the strains of a march played by Miss Susie Lynch the young people of the class and former and present classes filed in and seated themselves about a table beautifully decorated.

Miss Clara Davis presided and announced the numbers each of which deserves especial comment but lack of space and late hour forbid. The two readings were really excellent showing superior elocution; the musical numbers were all excellent; the poem was well written and the essay on education was a thoughtful production.

Charles W. Tinsley's remarks were timely. He urged the best of work, industry, perseverance and good morals and deplored the fact that colored people in Jacksonville have no greater chances in life after leaving school. They cannot clerk, teach or work at trades except with their own color, hence the greater need for diligence. Miss Hayden told of her school days and several other young people also spoke. The whole affair was very pleasing and successful. The following was the program.

March.

Congratulatory poem — James Scott.

Reading, "Possum"—Miss Sarah Herman.

Essay, Education—Miss Sarah Johnson.

Vocal solo—Miss Gladys Hayden.

Reading, "How Aunt Dinah Got By"—Miss Gladys Moore.

Vocal duet — Misses Susie Lynch and Clara Davis.

Remarks—Charles Tinsley.

Remarks—Miss Katherine Hayden.

Remarks—Other young persons of the high school and friends.

After the program came a social time with refreshments.

A Growing Habit

The habit of saving money will grow on you. It may be difficult at first to compel yourself to do without little things you want in order to make deposits. But the longer you go on, the easier it becomes. And while a bad habit is a rope around your neck, a good habit is a life preserver. Many have regretted that they did not save money. NO ONE REGRETS HAVING SAVED MONEY.

READ EDITORIALS INTO BERGER CASE RECORD

WASHINGTON, June 12. — After Milwaukee Leader editorials, which led to the indictment of Victor Berger for violation of the espionage act had been put into the record today, the house special elections committee investigating his right to a seat in the house, adjourned hearings until July 7.

Adjournment was taken at Mr. Berger's request in order to give him opportunity to prepare evidence to meet charges of ineligibility. Henry F. Cochems, counsel for Berger, asked the committee to put immediately before the house his challenge to its jurisdiction. Mr. Cochems contended that if his point was sustained, it would be unnecessary to go thru with a log unnecessary to go hearing. With the editorials from the Leader Harry R. McLogan, counsel for Joseph P. Carney who is contesting the election, submitted the National Socialist party platform, partly framed by Mr. Berger and which showed, he contended, that the member-elect from the fifth Wisconsin district had given aid and comfort to the enemy by attempting to obstruct the operation of the American machinery of war. Mr. McLogan in the course of his argument, charged that the Socialist convention was composed largely of representative alien enemies which Henry F. Cochems counsel for Mr. Berger, sharply denied, Mr. Cochems told the committee that at Chicago an attempt had been made to indict the entire personnel of the convention and that it had failed completely.

"Nevertheless," said Mr. McLogan, "half of the convention delegates were alien enemies and I'll ask Mr. Berger if it isn't a fact."

"It isn't a fact," Mr. Berger replied with heat.

Now Going On

The new Regina Electric Cleaner Model "K" is the most efficient electric vacuum cleaner of its type on the market. It is not only a high grade vacuum cleaner, but a sweeper as well, having a revolving brush operating inside the nozzle. The movement of the cleaner over the carpet operates the brush thru a set of gears inclosed in a dustproof gear case. Thus the action of the brush is positive, and inasmuch as it is driven in the opposite direction to which the cleaner is being used it will loosen all threads, lint, etc., the suction drawing them into the bag. The Model "K" is the only electric cleaner having such a positively driven brush. This brush also raises the nap of the carpet, allowing the current of air to penetrate to the bottom of the fabric. The brush automatically adjusts itself to any kind of rug or carppet.

THE RED LANTERN IS GOOD OFFERING

The Red Lantern with Nazimova is now on view at the Rialto. Perhaps there have been greater themes than that expounded in the Red Lantern but never any better acting than that done by the star. The photography is excellent and the setting of oriental splendor. Perhaps the greatest thing in the picture to one who has followed the stage is the art displayed by Nazimova in making up. She plays a dual role that of a Chinese girl and an English girl and it does not seem possible to attain the result she does. The picture is here today and tomorrow, go and see for yourself.

AUTO TRUCK TRAIN ATTRACTED ATTENTION

Visited City Thursday Morning — Thirty Four Trucks in Cavalcade — Much of Interest in Truck Industry.

The much advertised auto truck train arrived in the city yesterday morning an hour ahead of time having spent the night in Beardstown and coming thru Virginia. Some of the affairs had the chassis only and some a complete truck body. A big standard oil tank kept up the supply of gas and all arrangements were complete. Robert E. Lee, a couisn of the famous Confederate general, is in supreme command and he was represented on the trip by Capt P. W. Duffy, an automobile man and formerly an editor and a whole souled gentleman. He courteously afforded the press all desired information and was strictly on to his job. There were 34 trucks in all:

One truck had two paper mache horses, one was loaded with tires the Goodrich, Firestone and Goodyear being most in evidence. Capt. Duffy said they had found the roads very good and had suffered no kind of an accient or mishap. At Rushville the largest throng assembled to receive them. The captain thought there must have been 5,000 people out and the occasion was made a holiday.

One rather grewsome sight was the wreck of the air ship which cose the young aviator, Oscar Bricka, his life. They said his engine stopped for some cause and he alighted in such a way way that the machine took fire as the gasoline tank exploded. He was strapped securely and tho he cried a few moments for help it would have been death to any one to have attempted to save him.

Big Tire Displayed.

Another object of interest was the big auto pneumatic tire which is said to be a very valuable adjunct to a motor truck in saving the machinery. The tire was 10 by 44, weighted 225 pounds, tube, 45 pounds, cost $317.20 and the tube $45. The company claims a truck went from Akron to San Francisco and back and three of the tires returned with their original wind.

Newspapermen With Train.

Accompanying the cavalcade were John A. Lebens, auto editor of the Globe Democrat; J. A. McCollum of the Republic; I. G. Poland, pneumatic tire department of the Goodyear Tire & Tube Co., Akron, Ohio; S. A. Linton special representative of same company; John A. Dooris of the Auto Review; W. L. Patterson, consulting engineer, Motor Service Co., St. Louis, and several others.

Mr. Patterson said the object of the trip was two fold; promotion of god roads and attention to the use of auto trucks. He claims that trucks can be used to advantage in all kinds of hauling on all kinds of roads tho of coures much better where roads are good. He says farmers in the vicinity of St. Louis are using them very greatly instead of railroads for hauls of fifty miles or less, for live stock, grain and all else.

After getting dinner here the train left for Murrayville, Manchester, Roodhouse White Hall, Carrollton and Jerseyville for the night.

MURRAYVILLE BOY BREAKS LEG

Jess Allen Rimbey Suffers Fracture of Right Leg Below Hip Thursday—Two Social Functions Given.

Murrayville, June 12.—Jess Allen Rimbey, son of W. B. Rimbey, fractured his right leg just below the hip this evening when he jumped from the wagon of Robert Walker in which he was riding.

Rimbey is about 18 years of age and the fracture he sustained today is in the same place as one received about two years ago when he was caught in the machinery at the Murrayville elevator.

Dr. J. H. Spencer and Dr. Waters were called and after giving first aid brought Rimbey to Passavant hospital where he was attended by Dr. J. W. Hairgrove.

Mrs. Katherine McGrath gave a reception at her home near here Wednesday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James McGrath who were recently married. There was a large crowd present and dancing was indulged in on a large platform erected in the yard. During the evening refreshments were served.

Miss Hilda Osborne gave a lawn party at her home this evening in honor of Miss Bessie Rea and Miss Elva Osborne who are soon to leave Murrayville. Miss Osborne goes to Jacksonville to reside and Miss Rea after spending the summer with her sister in Virden will go to Normal to attend school.

WORKERS READY FOR Y. W. C. A. CAMPAIGN

Have Received Supplies for "Carry On" Campaign to be Conducted June 15 to 22.

Workers in the "Carry On" campaign for the Y. W. C. A. which will be conducted June 15 to 22 met at the Red Cross rooms in the Public Library Thursday evening and received their supplies.

There was a good attendance and the workers displayed an enthusiasm that bespeaks for the success of the campaign. Miss Maria Fairbank said last night that the Woman's clubs thruout the country have taken up the "Carry On" work and supplies may be secured at the Red Cross rooms any day this week.

In the recent world war the Y. W. C. A. had a large part in the various war activities. It was felt that there is much work to be done by the organization for girls and women thruout the entire world. This is the reason for the campaign, to secure the funds necessary to "Carry On" the work in peace times and thus fill the place for which the organization is intended.

ARMY WORM HERE

The army worm has been located at Chapin, Concord, near Jacksonville and Alexander. It is found in old blue grass pastures or in the wild grasses along the grain fields. It will quite likely appear in numbers large enough to do serious damage. 3 broods ordinarily appear in a season. The movement of the moth, which lays the egg which produces the worm, is generally in the direction of the prevailing wind. Turning the hogs on the blue grass pastures, spray with Arsenate of Lead or Paris Green when practical using one pound of Paris Green of 2 pounds of Arsenate of Lead to 50 gallons of water.

Where this is not practical a bran mash made of 50 pounds of wheat bran, 1 pound of Paris Green or 2 pounds of Arsenate of Lead, half a dozen oranges or lemons and enough cheap molasses to make a dough out of the entire preparation will kill the worms if this is scattered at evening when they begin to feed. This is dangerous to live stock and should not be applied where live stock is liable to get hold of it. When they start to migrate one can plow a deep furrow with the straight side away from them and maintain a dusty furrow by dragging along. In such cases it is a good plan to put post holes at rod intervals for the worms to fall into. The wise thing for us to do is to kill the first brood if possible. This office is anxious to hear from various parts of the county where the worms have appeared.

MARRIED AT CHAMPAIGN THURSDAY

The marriage of Miss Frances Boyd, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Boyd, to Mr. Charles Warnock, of Onarga, Ill., was solemnized Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents in Champaign. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. A. Boyd, father of the bride. The young people were both students of the University of Illinois and it was there that their acquaintance began.

The bride is well known here, as her father was at one time the pastor of the West Jacksonville circuit. She is a young woman of great personal charm and worth and has a wide circle of friends who will unite in wishing her much happiness.

Rev. and Mrs. F. B. Madden, uncle and aunt of the bride, left here Thursday morning to attend the wedding.

RAILROAD FIGURES FRANKLY STATED

The Railway Age Presents Summary to Show That Rate Advances Will Be Necessary.

The extent to which railway expenses have increased within recent years is strikingly illustrated by some statistics given in an editorial in a current issue of the Railway Age.

"It was in the railway fiscal year 1911," says the Railway Age "that Louis D. Brandeis made famous the proposition that by scientific management the railways could save one million dollars a day. At the time the operating expenses of the railways were $5,250,000 a day, wages being $3,211,000 a day. Six years later, in the last month of pivate operation—December, 1917—operating expenses had increased to $8,120,000 a day, wages being $494,000 a day. One year later in the last month of government operation for which we have wage statistics—January 1919—operating expenses had grown to $11,300,000 a day, wages being $7,500,000 a day, and both expenses and wages are still about the same per day as they were in January. It will be noted that the increase in expenses per day in the six years 1911 to '17 was $2,870,000 while in the single year 1918 it was $3,180,000.'

The Expense Column.

It is chiefly due to this enormous increase in expenses the Railway Age points out that in the first four months of 1919 the railways earned only 28 per cent as much net operating income as they earned in the three years on which the government guarantees to the companies were based. It is sometimes contended that the losses the government is now suffering are chiefly due to the heavy decline in the movement of freight traffic.

"Let us see," says the Railway Age, "what kind of showing it may be assumed the railways could make if they should have a very large increase of traffic. The largest increase of freight traffic and earnings they ever had was in the year ended on June 30, 1916, when freight traffic increased 24 per cent and freight earnings 21 per cent. This enormous increase in freight was handled with an increase of only 9 per cent in expenses. The increase expenses was unprecedentedly small in proportions to the increase in traffic and earnings.

"Now if in the first four months of 1919, freight traffic had been 24 per cent larger than it actually was, freight earnings 21 per per cent larger, and operating expenses only 9 per cent lanrger, what would have been the financial outcome? Freight earnings would have been $219,500,000 more than they were, operating expenses $124,000,000 more, and net operating income $95,500,000 more. In that case, instead of having only $65,000,000 net operating income in the first four months of 1919, the railways would have had $160,000,000. But this would have been only 67 per cent of the government guarantees. If the railways should throut the entire year earn only 67 per cent of the guarantees, the government's deficit for the year would be about $310,000,000.

"But for many reasons it is wholly irrational to base an estimate on the assumption of any such enormous increase of traffic as occurred in 1916. Let us assume a total traffic in the first four months of 1919 equal to that of the first four months of 1918, which was approximately 17 per cent greater than that actually handled in the first four months of 1919. If the same relationship had prevailed between the different factors as did prevail in 1916, a 17 per cent larger freight traffic in the first four months of 191 would have yielded 15 per cent larger freight earnings and caused 6 1-2 per cent greater operating expenses. Freight earnings in the first four months of 1919 would then have been $157,000,000. Greater than they actually were, operating expenses $89,500,000 greater, and net operating income $67,500,000 greater—or about $132,500,000. This would have been only 56 per cent of the amount of net operating income which the railways earned on the average in the test years. If in the entire year the railways should earn only 56 per cent of the guaranteed standard return, the government's deficit for the year would be about $421,000,000.

"The foregoing estimates demonstrate as conclusively as any estimates can that no increase in traffic which is at all likely and which existing railway facilities could cope with, would be anywhere near sufficient alone to make the net earnings of the railways adequate. But it is said there will be a great increase in efficiency and economy under private operation. Many of the very persons who formerly based their opposition to advances in rates on the alleged inefficiency of private operation, are now opposing advances in rates upon the ground that when the railways are returned to private operation there will be a great increase in efficiency.

"The Railway Age gladly concedes the superiority of private management, but the reduction in expenses which the companies would have to effect in order to make both ends meet would be at the very least one-third of a billion dollars a year, and in the absence of an increase of traffic would be about three-fourths of a billion dollars. We submit that those who contend that the railway companies can in a very brief time reduce expenses so enormously, do too great honor to private management.

Dere Bill:

I was much pleased with an advertizement of Automobile tires I saw the other day. I had been passing many enormous board notices, gaudy in hue, striking in design, and each claiming superlative merit for their tires. "Buy Live-For-Ever Tires! They last like steel! Don't wait! The best of all tires, they last forever!" So the striking advertizement vibrated thru the landscape.

Then the simple announcement—"United States tires are good tires"—just that. You can't imagine how restful it was. Immediately a solid sense of satisfaction came over me—"Good Tires."

No need to bluster and howl, no need to run down competitors, "United States tires are good tires." I wanted to buy some at once. Those are the tires for me hereafter—"Good tires."

Ah, when will people learn the delicious value of quiet, self-respecting simplicity?

Yours truly, JACK.

TELL THE WORLD THIS WOMAN SAYS

That Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made Me a Well Woman.

Los Angeles, Cal.—"I suffered with female troubles for years, was sick most of the time, was not able to do my own housework, and I could not get help from doctors. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the newspapers, and took six bottles, and am a well woman. You can use my name to tell the world the good your medicine has done me as I shall praise it always." —Mrs. A. L. DeVINE, 647 St. Paul Avenue, Los Angeles, Calif.

Women who suffer from any form of weakness, as indicated by displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, backache, headaches, nervousness, or "the blues," should do as Mrs. DeVine did, and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a thorough trial.

For over forty years this famous remedy, which contains the curative, strengthening properties of good old fashioned roots and herbs, has been correcting just such ailments. If you have mysterious complications write for advice to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

ONLY TWO LEFT

It is well known among car makers that based upon present costs of material and labor, the New Elgin Six is under-priced. The price of $1395, too low for the value of the car, has been maintained because of the general feeling thruout the industry until recently that there would soon be substantial reductions in the cost of production. However, these expectations far from being realized, it has now become necessary to increase the price of the New Elgin Six to $1485.

Careful comparisons and tests have proven beyond possible doubt that there is no other car on the market today priced as low as the new figure we have named and can equal the New Elgin Six in the essential points of appearance, performance, durability, comfort and economy.

U. S. EDUCATIONAL CORPS IN FRANCE

Work Is in Charge of Executive Commission — Causes Elective for Most Soldiers.

Paris, May — [Correspondence of The Associated Press.]—Uncle Sam is now a fully certified schoolmaster with about 200 000 khaki-clad pupils. This is the result of the establishment of the educational corps of the United States army to provide training for vocations and academic instruction for young men in the army.

The educational corps is under the direction of Brigadier General Robert I. Rees, who militarized the American colleges last fall. Under him is an executive commission of three educators, Dr. Frank E. Spaulding, Superintendent of Schools in Cleveland; Dr. John Erskine, Professor of English at Columbia, and Dr. Kenyon L. Butterfield, President of the Massachusetts Agricultural College. In all about 7,500 instructors including a number of men of high staning in American education, are teaching the American soldiers the way to progress. Everything from, a. b. c to university subjects and from stenography to engineering is included within the curriculm of this great and unique college.

The army schools were in full operation by January equipped with $1,500 worth of books specially ordered from America and provide in part by the American Library Association. But there has been a shortage of books and often one book has had to serve for a whole class.

Many hundreds of army schools have been established thruout Frence wherever there are enough American soldiers to warrant. General Pershing's order required a post school in every place where 500 or more men were stationed and as the schools had to be opened at once all sorts of queer places, from cafes to monasteries, were used as schoolrooms, until regular quarters could be provided. The soldiers are studying in barns, stable lofts, aerodromes, army barracks and in one case in a covent Meantime the army is endeavoring to provide adequate quarters and spufficient books for its 200,000 students. In cities like Coblenz, the city school building are used without interferring with the regular school life of the children.

These post schools may be termed the primary schols of the army educational system, tho this is inexact as in many of these schools more advanced education is being given to officers and men who are unable to leave their posts and attend the divisional schools or the university. The men attend these post schools after their regular day's work.

Then every division has a high school centrally located with better accommodations Some 30,0000 men are attending such high schools. Then comes the big army university at Beaune which will accommodate many thousands of students. Besides there are about 8,000 officers and men attending French universities who have hospitably thrown open their doors to their American friends and 2,000 more are in English universities. These universities students are all men who have had at least the equivalent of two years in college.

Obviously few men can be detached from their own units to attend these universities but the post school does not interfere with military work, but is availabl eo every soldier and thus has an important place in the educational system

The breadth of the work in the post schools being done is astounding. Men who cannot read or write are to be found studying in the same room with college graduates who are working for advanced degrees. There is a chance for everybody. The list of subjects taught would fill a book but here are a few to illustrate: Algebra, calculus, geometry, trigenometry, economics, literature, French, German, Italian, Spanish, agriculture automobile repairing, banking, barbering, bookkeeping, arithmatic, business English, business forms, carpentry, cobbling, commercial law, cooking horseshoeing surveying, mechanical drawing, road construction, salesmanship, stenography, typewriting, tailoring, telegraphy and telephone repair

For illiterates schooling is compulsory, for the great bulk of the army it is elective.

MILITARY POLICE IN BRUSSELS

Brussels, April 21.—So many American army officers and men have been flocking to Brussels recently that General Pershinp finally decided to assign military police to the Belgian capital area. The office of the assistant provost marshal, Captain George Parker, is in a building at one of Brussel's principal corners and all Americans remaining in the city any length of time are required to register with the American authorities. About two hundred Americans, either on leave, homeward bound, or on duty, pass through Brussels each day. The military police force is made up of two hundred picked men from France.

PRINCE OF WALES BUSY

London.—Since the return of the Prince of Wales from the army in France, he has been unusually active in acquiring first-hand information on many subjects, and in roval circles he is referred to as "the prince who learns things for himself."

He is said to have brought back from France the unconventional manner he acquired in his association with the troops of all ranks. The Prince rises at 7 o'clock each day, and when there are no public engagements on his program he plays racquets, of which he is exceedingly fond.

NOTICE TO FILE BILLS

Persons having accounts against Morgan county are requested to file them by Saturday of this week in order to insure payment the coming session of the county board.

WEALTHY MAN HAD MANY PLACES OF RESIDENCE

Columbus, Ind., April 17.—Lawyers are attempting to learn where Nathan Lewis, a wealthy old man, had his home when he died here recently in a hotel. The courts may have to decide finally. At the time of death Lewis' property and temporary residences were about as follows:

Five hundred acre farm in Brown county.

Eighty acre farm in Hancock county.

Trunk in Clinton county.

The year prior to his death he spent mostly in Wayne county.

His will was made in Hamilton county.

He died in Bartholomew county.

For years Lewis carried an identification card bearing the name of his brother-in-law, Lafayette Shaw, of Frankfort. Shaw is dead. Later the card had the name of a brother, Perry Lewis of Greenfield.

When he made his will Lewis had two copies prepared. He placed one in Greenfield, and sent another copy to Frankfort.

The copy left at Frankfort has been offered for probate. The copy in Greenfield has been offered to another court for probate. No one has yet decided the place of Lewis' legal residence.

Besides the valuable farm, personal property is estimated at $10,000.

WILL PLANT TREES TO HONOR SOLDIERS

Washington, May 22.—At the commencement on June 16, old Georgetown University will plant and dedicate sixty trees in honor of her graduates who gave their lives in the world war. The trees will be marked by the American Forestry Association and registered on the national honor roll being compiled by the association.

As each tree is placed and the marker with the name put around the tree a hero's name will be called out while a Georgetown aviator circles above.

A SIGNIFICANT JOKE.

Berlin.—A German humorous sheet publishes the following grimly significant joke:

"I recently visited a swimming pool in a German capital. The bathing master whispered into my ear:

"'Our minister-president is here today.'"

"So? Which one is he?"

"'That man over there, with the woman's head tattooed on his chest and the anchor on his right upper arm.'"

R. H. Hussey of Beardstown, called on city people yesterday.

WILLARD BOXES SIX ROUNDS IN HOT SUN

TOLEDO, O., Jun 12.—Working under a hot sun that seemed to affect everybody except the champion himself, Jess Willard boxed six rounds today after reeling off five miles on the road. The champion went thru his exhibition before a crowd that packed the tented walls of the Maumee Bay camp.

Willard stepped three three-minute sessions with Jack Hempel and then Walter Monahan donned the gloves for a similar length of time. Half a dozen times the champion dropped his hands to his sides and permitted his sparring partners to hit him when and where they pleased. The champion appeared to be a better judge of distance today than he has been in any previous workouts and used a left jab with telling effect.

Roy Archer, Willard's bzusiness representative announced tonight that a heavyweight named Ketchel would report in camp tomorrow. Archer said Ketchel, a product of the navy, is a 192 pounder with an offense similar to that of the challenger's.

According to Archer he is a free and hard hitter and capable of assimilating considerable punishment.

Dempsey, whose damaged eye is healing nicely, will not be permitted to do any boxing until Sunday, Manager Jack Kearns announced.

Rocap Eliminates Himself

Philadelphia, June 12.—William H. Rocap has eliminated himself from consideration as referee for the Willard-Dempsey fight.

In a letter today to Major A. J. Drexel-Biddle, Mr. Rocap, who is sporting editor of the Philadelphia Evening Ledger, said his duties to his newspaper would prevent him from serving in an official capacity at Toledo.

Just You Ride

More Than Half a Million Motorists Now Praise Their High Quality Light Weight Car-$1490 -F. O. B. Jacksonville.

IN AN ESSEX

No other proof is needed to win you to it.

Thousands have placed their orders upon the demonstration revealed in a short ride.

Its performance is so convincing that one is not left with indecison as to its value.

Consider What Thousands Say

On every hand you hear praise for the Essex.

Its newness created an interest that sent hundreds of thousands to Essex stores to see it. On the first day more than 5,000 rode and were won by its performance.

Every day of the past four months has seen a swelling tide of admiration until now all are saying the finest things for it.

What Is It That They Admire

Is it performance or appearance—low cost or economy of operation?

One speaks of one quality, another of some other feature.

That is accounted for by the experience those persons have had with other cars.

The man who has owned a good light weight car recognizes in the Essex a wider power range. He sees a complete car. It has features he had never hoped to obtain in any car selling within his price range.

The man experienced with fine cars sees in the Essex an equal quality to that with which he is accustomed but at an immense saving in operating and maintenance cost.

It Has Appealed To All Motorists

Interest in the Essex has come from all classes of motorists.

That proves the fulfillment of the aim of its builders. They intended it should be the car that would embody all the advantages of the two accepted types of cars.

It should have lightness as well as durability—performance as well as low first cost—easy riding qualities as well as economy of operation.

They did not sacrifice the advantages of either—they combined them.

That is what all have recognized.

It is what we want you to know and thus our statement "Just you ride in an Essex."

A MESSAGE TO MEN

Life Insurance has done more to abolish poverty than all the dreams of financiers or the acts of conconstructive statesmen.

During life it makes a man alive to his moral responsibilities; re-awakens in him love of home and pride of family; teaches habits of industry and thrift; quickens in his veins the corpuscles of ambition; lifts him from drudgery and despondency to a plane whereon dwell his successful fellow men; blesses him with self-respect and heartens him with sustaining hope. After his death, it solves the problem of ages: "What shall become of the widow and the orphans?"

It saves the devoted wife from penury and work; provides shelter, food, clothing and education for the children and spans the dark clouds of grief with a rainbow of security.

When the final hour comes, what thought can so solace the departing soul as to know that those nearest to him will not be left to the cold charity of the world?

An hour's delay may mean an eternity of regret. Protect wife and babies now.—Contributed.

HOWARD ZAHN LEADER AUTOMOBILE BUSINESS

From Small Beginning in 1914 Has Built Up Business With a Total Investment of Over 855,000—Recently Completed Building of Model Garage—Agent for Buick and Chevrolet.

A little more than ten years ago an automobile in Jacksonville was a rare sight while today hundreds of cars may be seen hurrying to and fro over the city's streets. Commercially the automobile industry has grown until it represents the investment of many thousands of dollers, gives employment to a large number of expert mechanics, salesmen and office people and, in fact, has become one of Jacksonville's most important industries.

Of especial interest at this time is the progress made by local automobile dealers is that of Howard Zahn who recently has completed the erection of a model garage, a building of pressed brick, steel and concrete, fireproof and modern throughout, occupying a ground area of 120x180 feet, two stories high, giving floor space of 33,000 square feet, and representing a total investment of $55,000.

Took Buick Agency in 1914.

On July 1, 1914 Mr. Zahn took the Buick agency for this territory using as an office a corner of Briggs' grocery store, on Pine street. He remained in that location for about one year when he purchased one half of the property where he is now located, made some improvements in the building then on that land, added a building 80x20 feet, a second story and put in an elevator. In 1917 Mr. Zahn purchased the Scott Airdome property next adjoining, remodeled it, put in concrete floors and installed a steam heating plant.

In April 1919 Mr. Zahn started the erection of his new building, a structure two stories high, 60x60 feet. This is connected with the others previuosly bought, in which are the office, sales and display rooms, paint shop, stock room, repair shop, etc. This building is of pressed brick, steel and concrete, thirty tons of steel being used in its formation. Upper floors are of concrete and here the space will be mostly utilized for the storage of cars.

Carries Large Stock.

The business office, on the east of the main entrance, is 24x36 feet, well lighted and ventilated. Directly back of this is the stock room or vault, a fireproof chambre 34x24 feet, in which is carried at the present time about $10,000 worth of car parts and $15,000 tire stock. These two rooms will be heated by a separate hot water system.

Mr. Zahn at present has a force of fifteen men, nine in the sales and office end of the business with five in the shop under the management of George Barmeier.

The car sales credited to this organization since January 1, 1919, of new cars, are 46 Buicks, and 62 Chevrolets, a total of 108 together with about 100 used cars of all kinds.

The erection of the new Zahn's Garage was given to S. G. Chumley under a sixty day contract. Work was begun by him on April 1 and the building turned over to the owner in forty working days, one more structure that not only does credit to the vision and energy of its owner, but to Jacksonville as well.

"NAVY DAY" IN VICTORY LOAN DRIVE

Secretary of the Treasury Glass Designates May 7 as "Navy Day" in Great Drive—Entire Country to Observe Day.

Chicago, May 2.—Designation of Wednesday, May 7 as "Navy Day" in the Victory Loan drive, is made in a proclamation by Secretary of the Treasury Glass. The entire country is to observe this day, according to the Bulletin, official newspaper of the Great Lakes naval training station.

The line of the proclamation which reads "The navy has fought and bought for victory" will fill every Great Lakes man with pride Secretary Glass also mentions that the navy subscribed $48,000 000 in the fourth liberty loan, saying that the navy will again do its duty.

The procamation reads in part as follows:

"To honor and give formal recognition to the victorious American navy which did so much to win the war, I hereby desigtate Wednesday, May 7, as 'Navy Day' in the Victory Liberty loan campaign and instruct every victory loan committee to observe that day in a manner which will fittingly honor the American navy.

"With the struggle to keep the sea lanes open now a thing of the past it is right that we pause in the midst of our victory campaign to think of the men who for eighteen months patrolled the submarine zone, encountering all kinds of hazards and emerging triumphant. Nothing estifies more to the triumph of American and allied powers than the surrender of the entire German fleet—the most spectacular surrender in the history of the world. The American navy rightfully was a witness to that surrender because it had done so much to bring it about.

"May 7th, will give us all the opportunity to recall the accomplishments of our navy and to think what might have happened had the American navy not made it possible to transport our millions of American soldiers to the battlefields of France.

The navy has pledged itself to fight for the victory loan the way it fought for victory on the seas. Let the country follow the navy's courageous example."

Rear-Admiral Cowie, naval liberty loan officer, says that "the navy must show its appreciation of this proclamation by making 'Navy Day' a time for everybody to subscribe again. Navy victory loan agents should arrange for special rallies and other features on 'Navy Day' and co-operate with local victory loan committees to make 'Navy Day' something to go down into history. Show the country what the navy can do and the country will follow and 'match the navy.'" It is planned to make "Navy Day" the banner day of the station drive.

COLORADO MAN HAD SUFFERED 25 YEARS

Relates His Experiece With Tanlac and Wants to Help Others.

"Tanlac certainly helped me and I hope my experience with this medicine will encourage others to try it," said Antonio Lopez, who lives at Delta, Colo.

"I was a sick man for twenty-five years, continued Mr. Lopez "and my stomach was in such a bad fix that for the last five years I wasn't able to eat any supper at all, and any kind of fruits or vegetables would cramp me so awfully that I never would touch them and I was simply miserable most all the time from the gas on my stomach. I lost considerable weight and at the time I started taking Tanlac I weighed only a hundred and thirty-eight pounds.

"The few bottles of Tanlac I have taken built me up wonderfully and I actually gained ten pounds on my first three bottles. My stomach is in such fine condition that I can eat anything, including fruits and vegetables, without the slightest pain or trouble from gas, and I can eat as hearty a supper now as anybody and enjoy every mouthful, too."

Tanlac is sold in Jacksonville by Coover & Shreve; in Meredosia by Mr. R. B. Field; in Murrayville by M. E. Gilbert; in Waverly by the Wyle Drug Co.—(Adv)

COBLENZ, —(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Two American soldiers who went ahead of the Army of Occupation during its march across Rhenish Prussia in December, donned Germany army uniforms and had a series of thrilling adventures, after a court martial recently, were sentenced to twenty years at hard labor. The men, both privates, were charged with desertion in addition to eight other offenses connected with their run away.

According to the testimony brought out at the court martial both men spoke a little German and after going ahead of the advancing troops fell in with a number of German soldiers, also deserters. The Germans had stolen a lot of food, wearing apparel and other articles of value and, witnesses said, induced the Americans to asisst the Germans in rescuing the stolen property from a cache.

The two privates, Frederick Richman and Frank Richards, probably were the first Americans to enter Coblenz, as they were more than a week ahead of the schedule of the Third army in its march toward the Rhine. It was in a suburb of Coblenz that the Germans had hidden their booty—in the basement of a German woman's house. In some way the Coblenz police heard of the thefts and for several days and nights had guards watching for the theieves to appear to cart away their loot.

When two supposedly German soldiers apepared one night with sacks and started to pack up the articles and refused to heed repeated German commands to "halt," the German policemen began to fire. One man fell, wounded in the arm, and the other, after a chase, was caught. When the two wer taken to the German police station it was discovered they were Americans and they were held until officers of the American amy arrived.

Under the circumstances, after an investigation the Americans decided not to file any charge against the policemen who had shot Richman.

TURKS THREATEN TO DESTROY CATHEDRAL

Officials of Great Britain Warned of Threat if Effort is Made to Restore Church of St. Sophia in Constantinople to Christians.

London.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Warning that the Turks had threatened to destroy the Church of St. Sophia in Constantinople, if any movement was undertaken to restore that church to the Christians has been received by government officials of Great Britain.

The subject was brought up in the house of commons the other day when Arthur J. Balfour, the foreign minister, was asked if he had received a communication from Constantinople stating that the Turks intended to blow up the Church of St. Sophia "if any public expression of opinion took place in the United Kingdom in favor of the restitution to Christendom of one of the oldest Christian churches in Europe."

Mr. Balfour replied that no official communication to that effect had been received but that such information had been conveyed by interested parties. He announced that Admiral Calthorp, British commander in Constantinople, had been instructed to take measure to protect the building and that he would see that these instructions were carried out.

Despite the warning there is a definite movement looking to the restoration of the great cathedral church of ancient Constantinople to the use of the Christian religion. Erected at first in 260 A. D. and rebuilt in 537 as a Christian cathedral, St. Sophia was appropriated by the Turks as a Moselem house of worship and is now the principal mosque of Stamboul.

A memorial signed by the archbishops of Canterbury and York and others has been sent to Premier Lloyd George urging that, while the great imperial mosques of Constantinople should remain in the hands of Islam, "justice requires that the Christians of that city, who form a large majority of its inhabitants should have their priceless building (St. Sophia) restored to them It has no special sacredness for Mosiems. Its value in their eyes is merely political.

"The great church is now in a serious condition and must inevitably collapse if it is not placed in capable hands," says the memorial. "The glorious mosaics, a precious heritage among the artistic treasures of the world, should be uncovered from the defacement which is necessarily imposed so long as the building, constructed and decorated for one faith, is alienated and devoted to another."

DEMAND FOR CORN RAISES PRICES

Unfavorable Crop Conditions and Falling off in Rural Consignments Cause Advance.

Chicago, June 12.—Demand for corn broadened out to an unusual extent today owing largely to unfavorable crop conditions and to a falling off in rural consignments. The market closed strong 3⅛ to 4⅛c net higher, with July $1.71¾ @ $1.71⅞ and Sept. $1.64⅞ @ $1.65.

Oats gained 1⅛ @ 2⅝c and provisions 37c@$1.35.

Highest prices yet this season were reached in corn by the July delivery which with other months closed at virtually the top level of the day. Excessive moisture and predictions of more to follow had led to many bullish estimates on domestic crop losses.

Steep fresh upturns in the value of hogs tended further to stimulate buying of corn.

About the only important selling was to realize profits.

Oats trade was much enlarged and sentiment bullish. Adverse crop conditions appeared to be chiefly responsible. Lard soared to a new top record price and carried other provisions skyward.

Most of the impetus came from the strength of grain and hogs.

STOCKS DECLINE DURING FINAL HOUR

Rise to Nine Percent for Call Loans Unsettle Prices at a Time When They are Pursuing a Vigorous Upward Course.

New York, June 12.—The money situation again today caused a decline in the final hour of trading on the stocsk exchange. A rise to nine per cent for call loans unsettled prices at a time when they were pursuing a vigorous upward course and the early gains made during a moderately active session were largely reduced.

The situation reflected once more what is declared to be the attitude of conservative bankers toward the speculation which has so long been in evidence. During the greater part of the session prices were marked up steadily with speculation becoming very broad, numerous shares advancing four to five points. The market showed the effect of confident pool operations in numerous cases but there was also a considerable increase in public buying. Speculative interests apparently were disposed to take into account the numerous favorable factors in the general situation. These included brilliant crop reports and revived inquiries on a large scale for copper and steel products.

Rails moved in a hesitant fashion during most of the day while U. S. Steel also showed a wavering tendency at times but otherwise the trend was aggressively upward with a long list of shares scoring advances anywhere from 1 to 7 points until the final dip.

Sales amounted to 1,400,000 shares.

Bonds inclined upward, with victory 3¾s establishing a new high record at 100.38. Total sales (par value) aggregated $11,400,000.

ASHLAND WOMAN'S CLUB HELD PICNIC

Annual Event Took Place at Country Home of Mrs. Len Butler Wednesday—Miss Lutie Beggs Returns from Ferry Hall — Other Ashland Notes.

Ashland, Ill., June 12.—Miss Lutie Begs returned from Ferry Hall Monday. She was accompanied home by her sister Virginia, who has been studying music there the past few months.

The Ashland Woman's club held their annual picnic yesterday afternoon at the beautiful country home of Mrs. Len Butler. The day was ideal and a large crowd was in atendance. After a short and interesting program and the installation of new officers, a social time was enjoyed. After this the picnic supper was served which was elaborate in every way.

Miss May Kendall is spending the week with her cousin Mrs. Frank Fox of near Virginia.

Miss Barbara Henn left Wednesday morning for the statt of Washington, where she expects to spend the summer.

John Atkins went to St. Louis yesterday on business.

The Misses Maud Davis and May Walbaum of Springfield were Ashland visitors yesterday and attended the Woman's Club picnic.

Miss Ester Bell was a Springfield visitor Monday.

Bernice and Mary Kitner of Woodson are visiting at the home of their aunt Mrs. J. T. Shelton.

Miss Miriam Lyles of Virginia is visiting Miss Lois Wyatt for a few days.

Miss Margurite Campbell, who has been a patient at the Passavant hospital the past week, has returned home.

Not New— Just Renewed

Many of those stylish hats you have seen on the street the past week–and admired for thei rsnappy style — were not NEW hats at all — only last summer's felts and Panamas.

You have no idea just what sort of an improvement can be made in a hat through this treatment, until you have brought one of your own in for us to work over. It is real extravagance to discard an old hat until it is actually worn out.

RELEASE OBJECTORS TO MILITARY SERVICE

"Martyrs of Opinion" Released From English Prisons in Increasing Numbers—Prominent Quaker Serving Sentence.

London — (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Conscientious objectors in increasing numbers are being released from English prisons but there are still about 500 Quakers and other objectors to military service who are working out hard-labor sentences.

More than 450 have been set free since April 8, when a war office measure governing the release of objectors became effective. The order applies only to those who have served sentences aggregating in length two or more years. Among those given their liberty this month were Fenner Brockway, formerly editor of the Labor Leader; Walter Ayles of Bristol, a member of the executive committee of the Independent Labor party, and other leaders of the "No-conscription" movement.

Altogether 6,135 men have resisted the British military service acts and 5,596 of them have been court-martialed. Since the armistice 240 men have been tried by military courts. Sixty-three objectors have died since being arrested, nine while in prison.

From the beginning of conscription there has been considerable agitation in the press and elsewhere against the measures taken to punish conscientious objectors. With the signing of the armistice the friends and supporters of the "C. O.'s," as the conscientious objectors are referred to in English newspapers, became unusually active, and their efforts to persuade the government to release the prisoners have been unflagging.

They contend that hostility to continued conscription is rapidly gaining ground and that the imprisoned "martyrs of opinion" evoke more sympathy than anger.

One of the most prominent of the Quakers serving a prison sentence is E. D. Ludlam, who is well known for his researches in chemistry.

The argument advanced for still keeping the C. O.'s confined is that if they were released now they would be given an unfair advantage in the matter of obtaining employment over the men who are unable yet to secure demobilization from the army.

EXPERIENCES IN FRANCE

Rev. W. E. Spoonts, D. D., will give at Northminster church, Sunday evening, a chapter of his experiences while serving the Y. M. C. A. in France. Dr. Spoonts is admittedly equipped for such an effort having enjoyed varied conditions and in all kinds of surroundings. The cut at the head of this article shows their car with the reverend gentleman on the rear platform. The grand work done by the "Y" will never be fully understood and appreciated by people on this side for the facts are not fully understood. The talk will be free and everybody is invited.

ROBBED U. S. ARMY CARS OF FOOD.

Coblenz—Eight German railroad employes were arrested recently by American military police in Coblenz and charged with robbing United States army cars of food. One of the men, Gerhardt Croom, was superintendent of the railroad yards in Coblenz, and the others were switchmen. Croom who was taken to the office of the provost marshal by an American private was greatly humiliated by this procedure and protested vigorously.

The American military police allege German railway employes were caught separating food cars from a train arriving at night, switching a car onto a lonely siding, robbing it and dividing the plunder. Afterward the car would be returned to its proper place in the train.
